

2006-2007 SPEAKER SERIES

The International Legal Studies Program at California Western School of Law and the Institute for International, Comparative, and Area Studies at the University of California, San Diego are pleased to present their fourth annual Joint Speaker Series.

CALIFORNIA WESTERN
SCHOOL OF LAW | San Diego

The International Legal Studies Program at California Western offers an enriched J.D. curriculum in international and comparative law. The classroom emphasis on theory and practice is complemented with curricular programs that highlight the role of international law in today's global economy. The program also promotes scholarly work in international and comparative law through faculty development, research support, and scholarly exchange.

For more information call 619-515-1589 or visit www.CaliforniaWestern.edu

The Institute for International, Comparative, and Area Studies (IICAS) promotes research on international, comparative, and cross-regional topics at UCSD. IICAS coordinates and supports faculty research in departments, area studies programs, and the Graduate School of International Relations and Pacific Studies (IR/PS). It is closely associated with undergraduate and graduate education in international studies, including Eleanor Roosevelt College, the undergraduate international studies major, and IR/PS.

For more information call 858-822-5297 or visit <http://iicas.ucsd.edu>

NON-PROFIT
U.S. POSTAGE
P A I D
SAN DIEGO, CA
PERMIT NO. 1100

CALIFORNIA WESTERN
SCHOOL OF LAW | San Diego

INTERNATIONAL LEGAL STUDIES PROGRAM
225 Cedar Street
San Diego, CA 92101-3090

2006 - 2007 SPEAKER SERIES

A More Secure WORLD

2006-2007 SPEAKER SERIES

A More Secure WORLD

REFLECTIONS ON THE UN SECRETARY-
GENERAL'S HIGH-LEVEL PANEL
REPORT ON THREATS, CHALLENGES, AND CHANGE

SPONSORED BY:

INTERNATIONAL LEGAL STUDIES PROGRAM, CALIFORNIA WESTERN SCHOOL OF LAW
AND THE INSTITUTE FOR INTERNATIONAL, COMPARATIVE, AND AREA STUDIES, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SAN DIEGO

A More Secure WORLD

IN 2004, THE UNITED NATIONS RELEASED THE report, “A More Secure World,” compiled by the Secretary-General’s High-level Panel on Threats, Challenges, and Change. The report identified six clusters of threats that the world must confront now and in the coming decades:

~ conflict between states;

*~ violence within states, including civil wars and large scale
human rights abuses;*

*~ poverty, infectious disease,
and environmental degradation;*

~ weapons of mass destruction;

~ terrorism;

~ transnational organized crime.

The 2006-2007 Speaker Series will examine each of these threats, offering comments from distinguished scholars and practitioners. Events at UCSD will take place at the Weaver Center at the Institute of the Americas, and California Western events will be held in the Gafford Moot Courtroom.

“Global Governance for Public Health: How Can This Work in the 21st Century?”

PROFESSOR THOMAS NOVOTNY

OCTOBER 26, 2006, 4 P.M., University of California, San Diego

Dr. Thomas Novotny is director of International Programs and a professor of epidemiology and biostatistics at the University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine. He is also education coordinator for UCSF Global Health Sciences. He was previously an assistant surgeon general in the United States Public Health Service, serving as Centers for Disease Control (CDC) liaison to the World Bank and as deputy assistant secretary for International and Refugee Health. While with the World Bank, he worked extensively in public health systems development, tobacco control, and health systems reform, particularly in Eastern Europe.

“Civil War and the High Level Panel Report”

PROFESSOR ANDREW MACK

NOVEMBER 30, 2006, 4 P.M., University of California, San Diego

Professor Andrew Mack is director of the Human Security Centre at the Liu Institute for Global Issues, University of British Columbia. Prior to establishing the Human Security Centre, he was a visiting professor at the Program on Humanitarian Policy at Harvard University. Mack spent two and a half years as the director of strategic planning in the Executive Office of Secretary-General Kofi Annan at the United Nations.

“Constructing an International Enforcement Regime Against Transnational Organized Crime”

BRUCE ZAGARIS, ESQ.

JANUARY 16, 2007, 12:10 P.M., California Western School of Law

Bruce Zagaris practices law in Washington, D.C., where he is a partner with Berliner, Corcoran & Rowe, LLP. He has served as a consultant, counsel, and lobbyist for 14 governments and served as counsel in more than 40 criminal trials on the national and international levels. His criminal work has included counseling on extradition and international evidence-gathering cases and testifying as an expert in international criminal cases involving money laundering and tax crimes. Zagaris was an adjunct professor for six years at the American University Washington College of Law, teaching international business criminal law.

“Protecting the World from Weapons of Mass Destruction”

LARRY D. JOHNSON, ESQ.

FEBRUARY 27, 2007, 12:10 P.M., California Western School of Law

Larry D. Johnson is the Assistant Secretary-General for Legal Affairs in the United Nations Office of Legal Counsel. Johnson formerly served as the legal adviser of the International Atomic Energy Agency and chef de cabinet in the Office of the President of the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia. Johnson was previously a professor of global affairs at New York University’s Center for Global Affairs and was a visiting professor at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University, the University of California, Davis School of Law, and the New England School of Law.

“Preserving the Peace Through Force and Belief”

PROFESSOR MARY ELLEN O’CONNELL

MARCH 6, 2007, 4 P.M., University of California, San Diego

Mary Ellen O’Connell is the Robert and Marion Short Professor of Law at Notre Dame Law School, where she teaches contracts as well as a number of courses in the area of international law. O’Connell’s primary research focuses on international legal regulation of the use of force and conflict and dispute resolution, especially peaceful resolution of disputes prior to an escalation to armed conflict.

“Imminence and Proportionality: U.S. and U.K. Responses to Global Terrorism”

PROFESSOR TODD LANDMAN

MARCH 29, 2007, 12:10 P.M., California Western School of Law

Todd Landman is a reader in the Department of Government at the University of Essex. He was co-director of the University’s Human Rights Centre from 2003-2005 and is currently the director of the Human Rights Centre’s State of Democracy Project. Landman’s research and teaching interests lie in the areas of democracy, development and human rights, and quantitative and qualitative political methodology. His current research involves the application of systematic comparative analysis to human rights protection.