

Reciprocity Policy

It is the policy of the Career & Professional Development Office (CPDO) at California Western School of Law to extend reciprocal services and use of reference materials to students and graduates of other participating ABA accredited/NALP member schools.

Reciprocity is not available to the alumni of other San Diego-area law schools or to those who have made reciprocal arrangements with such schools. Also, reciprocity is not available between August 1 and November 1 of each year due to fall recruiting schedules.

Correspondence requesting the use of our services and including an offer of reciprocity to a California Western alumnus/a must be received from the career services office of the individual's law school in advance of the first visit. Each request will be valid for three months. The three month period begins with the date on the correspondence granting reciprocity.

Reciprocal services include access to all career-related printed resources and private job listings. Counseling services are not available for reciprocity students/alumni(ae).

California Western School of Law reserves the right to refuse or rescind reciprocal privileges.

California Western School of Law does not discriminate on the basis of age; ancestry; citizenship status; color; creed; disability or medical condition; gender; pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions; gender identity or expression; marital, military or parental status; national origin; race; religion; sexual orientation, or any other basis prohibited by law in the interviewing and employment of students and graduates. Participation in our CPDO programs is restricted to those employers who agree to comply with this policy.
