California Western School of Law's building at 225 Cedar street underwent a complete façade renovation by San Diego-based general contractor Pacific Building Group. The school is celebrating its 90th anniversary this year. Pacific Building Group was tasked with updating the facility while maintaining its rich history.

The extensive project included the challenge of demolishing two large trellises made of heavy lumber and support steel; the removal of concrete columns; and scaffolding the entire building, with some areas up to 80 feet high. More than 1,200 gallons of paint, stucco repairs and new signage completed the building.
